This letter is to advise that we have evaluated the National Food Safety Training Program, including the online training program and the examination.

We are pleased to inform you that the National Food Safety Training Program curriculum and examination do meet the Manitoba Health requirements for food safety training. We have therefore decided to grant approval to proceed with offering these programs in Manitoba.

All individuals who successfully complete the NFSTP training program will have to have their details submitted along with a fee, in order to receive the Manitoba Health Food Handler Training Certificate. This certificate is valid in Manitoba for 5 years. These individuals will be entered into Manitoba Health's food safety training database.

Please contact the clerk for our food handler training program at 204-945-3705, or toll free at 1-855-236-1566. She can assist you in registering as a contractor, and can explain the process for submitting the student details.

If you have any further questions, please contact Mike LeBlanc at (204) 788-6726.

Sincerely,

Peter Parys
Director of Food Protection
